

About Quoinstone Consulting Limited

Phil Simnett has extensive 'corporate life' Line Manager experience, heading up Sales and Human Resources teams in companies such as Procter & Gamble and Bacardi-Martini. This 'client side' career, combined with extensive consultancy and training experience, provides a unique insight into achieving transformational change in performance and culture.

A member of the Chartered Institute of Personnel Development (MCIPD) Phil is also qualified in the use of a range of psychometric instruments including Myers Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI).

When appropriate we will source expert Associates to provide the best possible solution.

Founded in May 1999, Quoinstone Consulting Ltd (formerly known as The Cornerstone Partnership) has conducted a variety of UK and international assignments across a range of industry sectors including fmcg/drinks, field marketing, small electrical appliances, health and beauty, OTC, oil/petroleum, motor accessories, materials, public sector, education, arts festivals, computer software and telecommunications.

>> Contact Us